WEEK IN REVIEW

Rotarians were welcomed as they came to the meeting by Don Haferkemp. Another greeting was given by Hugh Hamilton and Mark Harden as they sold winning raffle tickets.

President Ray called the meeting to order and announced that the club had won two awards at the District Meeting in Destin. He said that he was borrowing a saying that the Panama City clubs added to the Four Way Test..”Is it Fun”? He reported that two seats were still available to go the May 21 meeting in New Orleans. Let Kerry Langley know if you want to go on the Good Time Tour bus for which the club is paying registration fees.

President Ray called Frances Yeo to the stage to tell all Rotarians about the Rotary 4-Way Test Essay contest that is being coordinated with the Interact Clubs for high school students. There will be three cash awards and members can pick up a flyer with all the requirements and information on the way out today. Entries must be in by May 23. Check with Frances at 384-0920 for further information. He also reminded everyone of the Thursday, May 12 Family of Rotary to be held at the Naval Museum beginning at 5:30pm. He thanked Maria Goldberg for her help in making all the arrangements.

Judge Roger Vinson led us in prayer and with the Pledge of Allegiance. President-Elect Alan Bookman personified “Sunshine” on stage as he added humor and welcomed military, guests, visiting Rotarians and Birthday recipients. He encouraged all to make nominations for the Grover and Sandra Robinson Awards. Information was placed on each table. The awards will be announced at the Annual Meeting June 28. The raffle was won by Judge Stafford.

Our entertainment for the day centered around songs of the Civil War Era and was performed by the Rotary Rooters. John Appleyard coordinated script and songs.

Chris Kelly introduced our speaker Coach “T” Talmadege Nunnari, manager of the Pensacola Pelicans. He spoke about the new stadium and ball team on board at the Community Maritime Park. He told how Quint and Rishy Studer had purchased the Carolina Mudcats in 2010 and that baseball was coming to Pensacola. The Double A Affiliate of the Cincinnati Reds will be the independent baseball team in Pensacola. Currently, seats are being offered for sale and the naming of the team is in the midst of a contest with six names selected. Research is being done on the final names to see if they have been trademarked by some else. To learn more about Pensacola baseball and to keep updated on happenings check the website at www.pensacolabaseball.com or call 850-934-844. After a series of questions from members, Chris thanked Coach “T” and presented him with fine Rotary China.

President Ray thanked all who had helped with the meeting. The meeting was adjourned.

Respectfully submitted

ROTARY WHEELS

Credit Nancy Fetterman with having a strong right arm! Her bottle of champagne shattered beautifully as she, as one of five ladies, christened the USS Ambition at the Flight Academy ceremonies. By the way, Jack Gray’s opening prayer was a jewel.

Skip Furlong says the Navy Museum is negotiating for a huge amphibious aircraft (wing span 200 feet) which “could” become part of the exhibits in the future. That wingspan dwarfs the one on the NC-4.

Andrea Farage has already begun her transition to United Way president. Many are cheering her years of success at Ronald McDonald House. She begins her new assignment early in June.

Bill Stafford has a unique bit of family and club history. His son David was but three years old when Bill first joined the Pensacola club. When he returned here after 30 years with the Tallahassee club, David was his sponsor.

Come May 29th Randy Jackson’s church will devote its full service to recognizing military veterans, with the spotlight on naval aviators.

Richard Brosnaham was a nominee for the Ethics in Business awards.
