WEEK IN REVIEW

President Andrea Krieger welcomed everyone to our meeting and made us aware of a little sunshine that was peeping out from the rainy clouds. Our members joined together for the Four-Way test, prayer and pledge.

Announcements included: Board vote to continue our $8,000 contribution to the CROP Rotary Against Hunger Project and $1,500 to support 5 RYLarians during the April 14-17 camp; Rotary cook off team pictures; Recommendation approved for new members Dr. Samanta Kaberi and Mr. Robert Overton; November 7th RYE meeting in Tallahassee.

Scott Grissett delighted us with his usual humor and new ideas for signing up for Salvation Army bell ringing at Sam's Club.

President Krieger shared a wonderful story about a polio victim who had recently completed an Ironman competition. She also shared that there are new methods of teaching remedial reading that are now infiltrating our communities.

The $60.00 raffle was won by Dale Jordan. Sally Fox delighted us with her Boudreaux jokes.

We were honored to have two military guests. And, we welcomed guest of Members, visiting Rotarians and sang Happy Birthday to some wonderful members of Downtown Rotary.

Our program was introduced by Deedee Flounlacker. Our speaker was Tom Ninestine, PNS News Journal Engagement Editor.

Tom shared that "mentoring" is his heart. He believes in making good choices and giving back to the community. He congratulated us on our 100 years of service. He also spoke about his great experience in meeting Earl Bowden.

Tom opened the floor to questions about the PNS News Journal and received many inquiries from our members. One of the key issues was what is on the horizon for print vs. social media. Tom said that appetite and attention spans are changing. They are trying to keep loyal subscribers and get the attention of the younger generation. He was enthusiastic about tweeting, especially when it came to weather and evacuations. He said that 70% of the paper's revenue still comes from the printed version of the paper. There is definitely a cultural change which is being studied by younger staff with the News Journal.

Most interesting was Ninestine's comments on Walter Cronkite's book which talked about 24 hour news coverage. Cronkite called it, "Talking Heads." People shouting at each other was now round the clock coverage.

President Krieger thanked: Greeters Collier and Will Merrill; Ticket Sales Clark Merritt and Carl Mertins; Prayer & Pledge Dale Jordan; and Sunshine Sally Fox.

Our meeting on November 2nd will be the CROP Military Appreciation Luncheon.

The meeting was adjourned with a reminder to, "Be a Gift to the World."

Respectfully submitted,
Sandra Smith

ROTARY WHEELS

- ❖ Jimmy Jones, who has a voting interest on the waterfront, was one of our members present on October 24th when the Vince Whibbs Memorial Statue was unveiled.
- ❖ Did you know Jerry Maygarden was an early planner for Ronald McDonald House?
- ❖ Malcolm Thomas and John Appelyard had great fun as the new Writing The Bill Of Rights booklet was presented to the county's seventh graders.
- ❖ The new food presentation makes lunch at Rotary culinary treat.
- ❖ Trivia question: What man held the club presidency twice (not in consecutive years)?
- ❖ Answer: It was Max Bear 1920-21 and 1925-26.
- ❖ All appears to be clear for the programs discussed last week. We WILL rehearse at my house at 5:00 p.m. on November 23rd for our full program on THANKSGIVING the following day. Then, we will have the December 10th program for the Realtors...with a rehearsal the evening before; at that we also can prepare for our Rotary Christmas Party programs. Hope this will fit everyone's schedule.
