WEEK IN REVIEW

Rotarians were welcomed by Scott Paul and Chris Pate. Alison Rodgers and Betty Gail Peters sold tickets.

President Margaret called the meeting to order. She greeted Rotarians with “Did you wear your Pin?” She announced that those interested in the trip to Costa Rica October 4 – 11 should contact her as the opportunity is still available. Back packs will be distributed to children in Costa Rica.

Krista distributed a fundraising letter as Rotarians arrived today that included information about Rotary International Projects and Paul Harris Fellows. Members were asked to read and make their annual pledge to Rotary International.

Bob Gaines gave the prayer and led the Pledge of Allegiance. President Margaret led the Rotary Four Way Test. Henry Roberts graciously took on the role of Sunshine. He welcomed attending military, guests and visiting Rotarians. He announced those having birthdays and with the accompaniment of John Appleyard we sang Happy Birthday. Henry gave us a break and skipped the Sunshine ho hum of the day. The winning ticket, drawn by the guest speaker, was Terry Scruggs. Good going Terry!

Ted Kirchharr introduced the speaker of the day, the “quintessential Rotarian”, John T. Capps, III of Morehead City, North Carolina. John is a favorite at District Meetings as he delivers meaningful, motivational talks and has held many offices in Rotary. Today was no different. He pointed out that he had his pin on his hairless head and turned his head for all to see. He asked all, “What is the best day of the week?” Then, told us that the best day of the week is Rotary Day. John greeted many members that he has known through the years and praised their work and support of Rotary such as Ron Richards, Innes Richards, and Will Merrill. He gave special mention to those in the audience that reflected a similar hairless look. He recognized and complimented our community and left us with the message that Rotarians need to feel good about their club, their community and smile.

President Margaret thanked all who greeted, sold tickets, gave the prayer and pledge, delivered Sunshine and Richard Sherrill for another fine program. The meeting was adjourned.

ROTARY WHEELS

Ron and Innes Richards showed off portions of the Pensacola waterfront to last week’s speaker, dining with him at the Yacht Club. (Several members agreed that the gentleman won the club’s all time “name dropper” award.)

Poor Al Coby has another challenge. He’s trying to defend the city’s environmental stance in what will be the new Publix location.

Mark Harden is one of the cadre putting together this year’s version of the LEAP program. Almost fifty folks are involved as learners.

Our resident tennis pro Roger MacDonald was in New York just days back to watch the new female phenom! He says she’s great!

Hats off to Susan O’Conner and her husband for staging a one-year anniversary on-the-job ceremony to honor Dr. Ed Meadows.

John Appleyard had a new assignment September 20th. He was “preacher” at Randy Jackson’s church dealing with the History of Religion locally.
